

Workshop: The Macro & Labor Market Consequences of AI

Boston College • Friday, October 10, 2025

Location: Corcoran Commons 205 Heights Room, Boston College (map)

Organizers: Lukas Freund (freundl@bc.edu) • Pablo Guerron (guerron@bc.edu)

Format: 50' presentation + 10' Q&A per paper

Program

08:00–08:25	Registration
08:25–08:30	Welcome
08:30–09:30	Partial Automation Pascual Restrepo (with Tianyu Fan)
09:30–10:30	Job Transformation, Specialization, and the Labor Market Effects of AI Lukas Mann (with Lukas Freund)
10:30–11:00	☕ Coffee Break
11:00–12:00	AI, Scale, and Skills: A Quantitative Task-Based Theory of Automation Danial Lashkari (with Wensu Li, Christina Qiu, Neil Thompson)
12:00–13:00	🍴 Lunch Break
13:00–14:15	🎤 KEYNOTE: Technology Adoption Across and Within Firms (and some thoughts on AI) Raffaella Sadun (with Jorge Tamayo)
14:15–15:15	The Macroeconomic Implications of the Gen-AI Economy Jaromir Nosal (with Pablo Guerron, Tomoaki Mikami)
15:15–15:45	☕ Coffee Break
15:45–16:45	Large Language Models, Small Labor Market Effects Anders Humlum (with Emilie Vestergaard)
16:45–17:45	Artificial Intelligence and the Labor Market Larry Schmidt (with Menaka Hampole, Dimitris Papanikolaou, Bryan Seegmiller)
18:30	🍴 Conference Dinner @ Bar 'Cino Brookline (by invitation only)